A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

Madisonville, Mercer Co., Mo., May 21, 1858. Dr. C. M. Jackson Dear Sir. About 2 years ago I had congestive chills, which so completely prostrated my whole system, that for months I despaired of recovery. As a natural consequence of the daugerous congestion of blood to the thoracic viscera (or internal organs,) I was now affected with chronic inflammation of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen, accompanied with palpitation of the heart, and a long train of distressing nervous symptoms. I tried all the usual remedies and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies and South America, at 75 cents per battle. See that you get Hooffand's German Bitters.
